

ROBERT N. WISNER

January 2009

Education: Ph.D. Univ. of Tennessee; 1967; M.S. Michigan State Univ.; 1964; B.S. Michigan State Univ., 1962

Professional Experience

March 1, 2008 to date, University Professor and Biofuels Economist, Iowa State University
University Professor & Coles Professor of International Agriculture, Iowa State University,

July 1, 2005 to 12/03/07

University Professor, Department of Economics, Iowa State University, July 1, 1997 to date

Visiting Lecturer, Zhejiang University, Honjo, China, June 2000

Visiting Big XII Fellow, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, May-July, 1997

Visiting Professor, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska, 1990-1991

Professor, Department of Economics, Iowa University, July 1, 1977 to June 30, 1997

Assistant Professor, Iowa State University, 1967-1973; Associate Professor, 1973-1977

Senior Economist for the U.S. Cost of Living Council in Washington, D.C., 1973

International Assignments, 1970-2006

China, Japan, Argentina, Brazil, Trinidad, Turkey, Canada, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Belgium, Netherlands,

Yugoslavia, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Israel, Sweden, Uruguay

Selected Awards

Wallaces Farmer Publications, Outstanding Contributions to Iowa Agriculture, 2009

American Agricultural Economics Association (AAEA) Individual Extension Award, 2002;

AAEA Group Extension Program Award, 2000 (Project Co-Director);

Twelve (unprecedented) AAEA Extension Premiere Forecaster Awards, 1992-2007

Iowa Society of Farm Managers & Rural Appraisers, Distinguished Service to Iowa Agriculture, 2005

Endowed Professorship, Coles Professor of International Agriculture, Iowa State University, July 1, 2005

Promoted to University Professor at Iowa State University, July 1, 1997

Distinguished Service Award, Iowa State University Extension (Extension's highest award), 1995

Meritorious Service Award, Iowa State University Extension, 1987

Outstanding Extension Educator Award, Iowa State University, 1983

Excellence in Applied Research and Extension Award, College of Agriculture, Iowa State University, 1982.